THE MOONSHOT MASTERY ACADEMY

Helping You Find the Light Within

Who this is for

Working with schools, colleges and organisations to create brighter futures.

We partner with education settings and organisations to support the wellbeing, personal development and life skills of young people, while also supporting the adults who work with them. Our work is practical, compassionate and evidence-informed, helping to create calmer, safer and more connected communities.

Secondary schools, sixth forms and colleges

Alternative provision and youth settings

Teams wanting trauma-aware, developmental support

Communities seeking calmer, safer, more connected cultures

Why work with Matt

13 years in secondary education

Real classroom and leadership experience, understanding the day-to-day realities in schools.

Teacher, Head of Science and Assistant Headteacher

A broad perspective across teaching, pastoral care and whole-school development.

Science-informed approach

Practical, evidence-informed strategies to build understanding, resilience and lasting change.

Safeguarding first

A consistent, child-centred and trauma-aware approach, with safety and wellbeing at the heart of everything I do.

Ways to work together

Flexible, bespoke support to meet the needs of your setting.

Assemblies and talks

Engaging, age-appropriate sessions that inspire reflection, build understanding and give young people practical tools for life.

Staff CPD

Practical, evidence-informed training to build confidence and skills in areas such as mental health, behaviour, trauma awareness and creating supportive environments.

Small-group programmes

Targeted, structured programmes for students who would benefit from additional support, focusing on emotional literacy, resilience, relationships and decision-making.

Commissioned support

Bespoke packages tailored to your setting, from short-term projects to longer-term partnerships, helping you meet your specific goals and challenges.
